

An Ecovillage Proposal: A partnership project

Sustainable Communities Initiatives and the Bodhi Eco-Project are working together to create an ecovillage project, which is both educational and residential.

The sustainable community project is an ambitious project. It addresses:

- Waste reduction
- Climate change
- Affordable housing
- Community regeneration
- Green jobs
- Education for all ages
- Land stewardship
- Transition Communities

Key Factors of the project:

- Low impact self-build development
- Major reduction in household waste
- Major reduction in energy consumption
- Autonomous water, sewage and power
- Creation of local employment & social enterprises
- Integration with wider community
- Research and monitoring for replication

For more information:

Lusi Alderslowe, Project Coordinator, Bodhi Eco-Project

1/1, 12 Albert Avenue, Glasgow, G42 8RE

0141 423 2678

www.bodhi-eco-project.org.uk working in partnership with www.sci-scotland.org.uk

*It has high aims to achieve zero waste and zero carbon through a holistic approach to housing, work, transport and food.